

Visit the new careertransition.org Reaching dancers nationwide and 24/7

Knowing the hectic lifestyles of dancers and the fact that our dancer-clients hail from 47 states across the nation, we reconstructed our website to make our services more accessible.

Our enhanced career resources include a resource directory connecting dancers with over 120 useful resource websites, and a search engine to help dancers find information that is pertinent to their career growth.

Read our new mission In the About section

The launch of our new website is only the beginning of a long-term initiative to provide more resources online. Other features that are coming soon include streaming videos of over 100 Career Conversation seminars that cover topics such as how to go back to school or how to start your own business, where dancers will be able to subscribe to videos through iTunes and view them on their personal computers or iPods. We will also have an online version of our very popular National Networking Directory that connects dancers with individuals who can provide career and educational information.

Share your feedback In the Contact Us section

To everyone in our extended family, our current and future accomplishments would not have been possible without your support. Thank you for being our connection to the future.

Donate online at careertransition.org Keeping pace with giving trends

With the launch of our new website, and its state of the art security measures, Career Transition For Dancers can now receive donations online.

As more individuals are turning to the web to execute everyday tasks, so are donors to support their favorite charities. According to research from Harvard University's Initiative on Social Enterprise, by 2010, one-third of all donated funds will be given online. This is very encouraging to non-profits who are always looking for ways to streamline their fundraising efforts in order to dedicate more resources towards the needs of their constituency.

If you would like to learn more about the organization's online giving capabilities or about the 128-bit encryption technology that keeps our donor's information secure, please visit the Donate Now section of our website. On every page of the site, look for the shortcut to Donate Now at the top right of your screen. Donors wishing to mail or fax their contribution can still fill out the information online and select proceed by mail or fax to create a printer-friendly form.

Our online resources are organized into 11 categories to help dancers find the information they need.

Our rotating home page keeps visitors up to date on new services provided online

Since 2005, readership of MovingOn has nearly doubled. To ensure that the useful content in the newsletter is available to dancers, we've put them online. View them by issue or individual article.

We know how busy dancers' schedules are. That's why the new schedule of events is organized to get you the information you need, quickly.
